

GOOD EVENING TO THE NET – KF6JMQ HERE – TRAINING OFFICER

I have provided two URL's for learning about Broadband over Power lines (BPL). The first is an excellent video which you watch on your computer. The second URL points to the ARRL web page where BPL is discussed.

The next URL points to the FEMA manual for citizen emergency preparedness. It is a 108 page in Adobe pdf format. You should at least download it and skim through it from time to time to determine if it provides useful information to your family.

The last URL points to a list of online courses given by FEMA's Emergency Management Institute. Start with IS-195 – Basic Incident Command System.
